Full Training Sponsorship | $30,000

The average cost to fully train and place one service dog ranges from $30,000 to $50,000 among Assistance Dogs International (ADI) member programs.

Full Training Sponsorships support the entire two years of intensive training for each dog in our program, as well as 200+ hours of training and follow-up with each client we serve. When possible, Full Training Sponsors have the opportunity to meet their sponsored working dog team.

Kennel Sponsorship | $15,000

Kennel Sponsorships support the daily upkeep of our Iowa and Missouri facilities, where all our service dogs in training learn to perform advanced tasks that mitigate our clients' physical and psychiatric disabilities. Kennel Sponsors are recognized with permanent signage over one of our kennels, and have the opportunity to privately tour the facility.

Final Placement Sponsorship | $10,000

Final Placement Sponsorships support the final stage of a service dog's training when it gets matched with a veteran or autism client.

This sponsorship enables our team to spend 200+ hours with each client. RFI provides housing for clients during their training, and conducts regular follow-ups throughout the life of the working service dog team. When possible, Full Training Sponsors have the opportunity to meet their sponsored working dog team.

Health & Wellness Sponsorship | $5,000

Health & Wellness Sponsorships support a full year of preventative and veterinary care for about four service dogs in training. RFI upholds the highest standards of canine well-being, and this sponsorship allows us to provide timely, nurturing, expert healthcare for each dog in our program.

All sponsorships include digital marketing recognition via our social media channels or e-newsletter, as well as regular updates on the impact of each sponsorship gift.
